

COUNTY COURT.

Divorce Cases Under Consideration This Week.

The report of the final proceedings in the Fairbanks murder case, and of the deposition of the Fred C. Gale case are given elsewhere in this paper. The equity case of N. M. Batchelder vs. Arthur A. White, administrator of the estate of John White, late of Newfane, for the payment of a promissory note of $300 has been heard, but the court's decision has not been given.

The reprieve case of the Bannigan Rubber company against C. E. Mann of West Dover was an action to recover the goods which were sold by the Bannigan Rubber company to Guy O. Howe & Co. of Wilmington, now in bankruptcy. The goods were taken under writ of replevin and the case was to be tried by jury, but it has been settled by the rubber company paying for the goods.

Aside from these cases the time of the court has been mainly occupied with divorce cases. Divorces have been granted as follows:

Georgia E. Lackey vs. George Lackey of Brattleboro for refusal to support. Mabel R. Allen vs. Gilbert Allen of Dover for intolerable severity. Custody of child given to petitioner's father and mother.

Aurelia Shipps vs. Carlos Shipps, Brattleboro, for intolerable severity. Petitioner to have custody of child, Isadore Shipps.

Alita N. Gore vs. Harry Gore for adultery. Petitioner has leave to resume maiden name.

Guy H. Putnam vs. Lizzie Putnam for willful desertion.

Harry H. Wales vs. Wilhelmina Wales of Brattleboro for willful desertion. Petitioner to have care of minor child.

Decisions in several other cases have not been given.

This morning the divorce case of Jasper Benson of Jamaica vs. Dora L. Benson of Townshend is on trial. This case is being hotly contested and about 30 witnesses are present.

It is expected that the business of the session will be completed today, but court probably will not adjourn until tomorrow morning.

Daniel Sully in "The Golden Rule" Nov. 28.

Daniel Sully in "The Golden Rule" is without doubt one of the best character actors of the American stage. He has a praiseworthy ambition to elevate the Irish character of the drama, and presents the son of Erin as we know him in the past, not as we see him in the comic papers. Across the footlights comes only a delightful thing of brogue, carrying in its sweetness the outpourings of an Irish heart, and the pulse throbs of true Irish nature. He is heroic without bravado; he is honest without saintism, and the pure and artistic air of naturalness permeates his beautiful play. The discerning public, which has burnt incense at the shrine of "Puggan's Neighbors," "Finian's Rattle," "Grogan's Alley" and that sort of thing, should open its arms and welcome a man brave enough to present an Irish character which is not a caricature. Mr. Sully will be seen in his play at the Auditorium Tuesday evening, Nov. 28.

Gov. Hughes asked six leading bankers of New York city to investigate banking laws and recommended reforms, with a view to having state control as complete as that of the government over national banks.

President Roosevelt, in a letter made public in Washington, excused "his remark" of the motto, "In God We Trust," from the new St. Gaudens gold coins on the ground that the inscription had become cheapened and led to a tendency toward irreverence. Philadelphia bankers protested against striking off the inscription.

BRATTLEBORO PERSONAL.

Mrs. Charlotte Cassassa is in Boston this week.

Imprisoned 37 hours several hundred feet below the surface of the earth by a cave-in of the top of a mine chamber Michael McCabe of Gilberson, Pa., was taken from the Draper mine Wednesday, barely alive after one of the most marvelous rescues in the history of anthracite mining.

Israel Lassar, 33, was probably fatally injured in the Mead building in Rutland Wednesday. He was conductor of the passenger elevator and was standing with one foot in the car and the other on the floor of the building when the car suddenly shot upwards. He was caught between the floor of the cage and the top of the door frame. One leg was crushed, four ribs broken, his head jammed and his back injured. He was finally released and the car shot upwards while he dropped 15 feet to the bottom of the pit.
